PROJECTS

SUDOKU GAME

Technologies
Python | C++

About
I created a Sudoku game using Python and C++. In C++, I built a library to manage the game's rules, which I later incorporated into Python. The visual design was done using PyQt.

NEWS APP

Technologies
Django | Docker | HTML/CSS

About
This is a project in which users can view the latest news, add new articles and write comments to each news. Full authorization was also implemented in this project

JOB JOURNEY

Technologies
FastAPI | Docker | Redis | PostgreSQL

About
This is a team project on which I am developing the server part of the site. This is a job search site. It has 2 types of users: the searcher and the employer. The employer can post their vacancies, update them and archive them, and can also view reviews of their vacancies. In turn, the searcher can view vacancies, save a separate vacancy, recall a vacancy
